NIC Open House 2012 | February 23, 2012

How do you know what's right for you?

Decisions regarding post-secondary education and future careers are often overwhelming. There are so many opportunities available, so many different possibilities, and so much pressure to make the right decision.

So where do you start?

On February 23rd, students from the Comox Valley, Campbell River, Gold River and Parksville-Qualicum will visit NIC's Comox Valley campus to explore their various educational options. Students will have the opportunity to visit two areas of interest, engage one-on-one with current students and faculty, and meet a recent graduate who did something quite unique to find his passion.

Students will learn about the multiple pathways available to them and they will be provided with resources to help streamline the decision-making process. Advisors will be on-hand throughout the day to answer questions about finances, educational programs, career paths, etc.

Further information about the Open House will be presented on January 10th at an information session at your school.

So start by thinking about the two areas you would like to explore.

Choose from:

- Trades
- Health & Human Services
- Liberal Arts & Humanities
- Science & Applied Science
- Fine Arts & Design
- Tourism & Hospitality
- Business

See you on January 10th!
